

Barton

A taste of nature...

Chenin Blanc 2017:

VITICULTURE:

Barton's vineyards (latitude 34 degrees south) lie in the Botriver Valley on the cooler south slopes of the Kogelberg, some 180 metres above sea level, absorbing the cooling Atlantic breezes from Walker Bay eleven miles distant. The cool sea breeze lowers disease incidence and aids in good colour formation. The frost free moderate cool climate and southerly aspect gives a slow and extended grape ripening period preserving the flavours and aiding phenolic ripeness of the grape. Temperatures in the growing season average between 19 and 22 degrees centigrade. The dominant soil formation is gravely coarse sand with ferruginised quartzite gravel overlying soft weathered Table Mountain sandstone with clay patches. Average annual rainfall is 550 mm.

VINIFICATION:

The grapes were handpicked in the cool of the early morning at optimum ripeness, crushed, destalked and select at Barton Cellar prior to being subjected to a gentle press. The juice (or must) was settled at 10°C then racked prior to fermentation. The juice was handled as reductively as possible. Fermentation temperature was kept at 12°C. The fermentation was completed after 21 days and the wine was left on the lees for 3 months before racking and bottling.

TASTING NOTES:

Silky smooth and medium-bodied with green apple and white pear on the nose. Balanced and well-structured with tropical fruit and hints of apricot, pineapple and honey on the palate which linger on the after taste. Pairs well with foods that have a sweet and sour element like Southeast Asian cuisine or pork chops with apples.
